Group quarters also include places like college residence halls, military barracks, or correctional facilities. Between 2000 and 2010, the number of persons living in group quarters increased by 5.4 percent, as shown in Table II.13.3, below.

In the 1980, 1990, and 2000 decennial censuses, the Census Bureau released several tabulations in addition to the full SF1 100 percent count data including the one-in-six SF3 sample. These additional samples, such as the SF3, asked supplementary questions regarding income and household attributes that were not asked in the 100 percent count. In the 2010 decennial Census, the Census Bureau did not collect additional sample data, such as the SF3, and thus many important housing and income concepts are not available in the 2010 Census.

To study these important concepts the Census Bureau distributes the American Community Survey every year to a sample of the population and quantifies the results as one-, three- and five-year averages. The one-year sample only includes responses from the year the survey was implemented, while the five-year sample includes responses over a five-year period. Since the five-year estimates include more responses, the estimates can be tabulated down to the Census tract level, and considered more robust than the one or three year sample estimates.

Table II.13.4, below, shows data on household type by tenure in the 2014 5-year ACS data. Household type is broken down by family households and non-family households. In 2014, there were an estimated 20,512 family households, of which 15,171 housed married couple families and 5,341 housed “other families.” “Other family” is defined as either a male householder with no wife present, of whom there were 2,013 families, or a female householder with no husband present, of which there were 3,328 families. There were also an estimated 11,278 “non-family households,” which refers to households of unrelated people or one person living alone. When compared to the state, the percentage of family households in Natrona County was 64.5 percent, which compared to the statewide rate of 65.3 percent. Of the family households in Natrona County, 74.0 percent were married households, which compared to 79.8 percent in the State of Wyoming.

The BLS, in conjunction with the State Employment Security Agencies (SESAs), produces the Quarterly Census of Employment and Wages (QCEW), which reports monthly data on employment and quarterly data on wages and number of business establishments. QCEW employment data represent the number of workers who worked during or received pay for the pay period. Members of the armed forces, the self-employed, proprietors, domestic workers, and unpaid family workers are not included in QCEW estimates. Data from this series are from the period of January 2005 through June 2015 and are presented in Table II.13.20, below, with the 2015 information considered preliminary (p). As shown therein, total annual employment stood at 42,605 persons in 2014; this figure was higher than the 2013 average by 858 jobs. Between June of 2014 and 2015, preliminary estimates show the monthly employment fell from 43,139 to 41,991 jobs.

Housing Problems

While the ACS data do not report significant details regarding the physical condition of housing units, some information can be derived from data relating to overcrowding, incomplete plumbing or kitchen facilities, and cost burdens.

Overcrowding is defined as having from 1.1 to 1.5 people per room per residence, with severe overcrowding defined as having more than 1.5 people per room. According to 2014 5-year ACS data, 409 or 1.3 percent of households in Natrona County were overcrowded and another 138 or .4 percent of units were severely overcrowded, as shown in Table II.13.40, on the following page. This housing problem was far more prevalent in renter households as compared to owner households.

Incomplete plumbing and kitchen facilities are another indicator of potential housing problems. According to the Census Bureau, a housing unit is classified as lacking complete plumbing facilities when any of the following are not present: piped hot and cold water, a flush toilet, and a bathtub or shower. Likewise, a unit is categorized as deficient when any of the following are missing from the kitchen: a sink with piped hot and cold water, a range or cook top and oven, and a refrigerator.

At the time of the 2014 5-year ACS, a total of 773 units or 2.2 percent of all housing units in Natrona County were lacking complete kitchen facilities. This compared to 2.6 percent of households statewide without complete kitchen facilities. These data are presented in Table II.13.41, at right.

The third type of housing problem reported in the 2014 ACS data is cost burden. Cost burden is defined as gross housing costs that range from 30.0 to 50.0 percent of gross household income; severe cost burden is defined as gross housing costs that exceed 50.0 percent of gross household income. For homeowners, gross housing costs include property taxes, insurance, energy payments, water and sewer service, and refuse collection. If the homeowner has a mortgage, the determination also includes principal and interest payments on the mortgage loan. For renters, this figure represents monthly rent and selected electricity and natural gas energy charges.

In Natrona County, 15.7 percent of households had a cost burden and 8.6 percent of households had a severe cost burden, which compared to 14.4 percent with a cost burden and 9.8 percent with a severe cost burden in the State of Wyoming. Roughly 16.4 percent of homeowners with a mortgage in Natrona County experienced a cost burden and 7.1 percent experienced a severe cost burden, while 22.5 percent of renters had a cost burden and 15.3 percent had a severe cost burden, as seen in Table II.13.43, on the following page.

2016 Housing Needs Forecast

Three alternative housing forecasts were prepared: a moderate growth scenario, a strong growth scenario and a very strong growth scenario. While all three predictions are available in the 2016 Wyoming Housing Needs Forecast, only the strong growth forecast is presented on the following page. The forecast of household formation by tenure was segmented by income as a percentage of Median Household Income (MHI). The income groupings for the counties were separated into five categories: 0 to 30 percent, 31 to 50 percent, 51 to 80 percent, 81 to 95 percent, and more than 95 percent of MHI.

The household forecast indicated a total increase of 10,920 households in Natrona County, from 30,616 in 2010 to 41,536 in 2040. Homeowners are expected to increase from 21,508 households in 2010 to 29,566 by 2040. Renters are anticipated to increase from 9,108 households in 2010 to 11,970 in 2040.

Homeownership from 2010 to 2040 is expected to increase by 518 households for homeowners with extremely low incomes or 30 percent or less of MHI. Homeownership for those with incomes from 30 to 50 percent of MHI is expected to increase by 759 households and by 1,132 for those with 51 to 80 percent of MHI.

Rental demand from the years 2010 to 2040 is expected to increase by 500 households for renters with extremely low incomes or 30 percent or less of MHI. Further, rental demand for those with 31 to 50 percent of MHI is expected to increase by 539 households over the period. Table II.13.44, below, provides details of the household forecast by tenure and income.

Additional Comments

Natrona County’s unemployment rate rose by a half a percent, according to data released in July, making it one of the higher unemployment rates in the state.<sup>169</sup> Despite this increase in unemployment, however, more homes are being sold in Natrona County than in previous years.<sup>170</sup> In addition as Wyoming is attracting more minorities to the state, Natrona County has one of the higher minority populations, at 29.7 percent.<sup>171</sup> The Natrona County Commissioners have begun the process of overhauling the master plan that guides land development of r the County, as of January, 2016.<sup>172</sup>
