At the time of the 2010 Census, there were 942 persons living in “group quarters.” This type of household is defined as places where individuals live or stay in a group living arrangement owned or managed by an organization that provides housing or services for residents, such as medical care. Group quarters also include places like college residence halls, military barracks, or correctional facilities. Between 2000 and 2010, the number of persons living in group quarters increased by 8.7 percent, as shown in Table II.15.3, below.

In the 1980, 1990, and 2000 Decennial censuses, the Census Bureau released several tabulations in addition to the full SF1 100 percent count data including the one-in-six SF3 sample. These additional samples, such as the SF3, asked supplementary questions regarding income and household attributes that were not asked in the 100 percent count. In the 2010 Decennial census, the Census Bureau did not collect additional sample data, such as the SF3, and thus many important housing and income concepts are not available in the 2010 Census.

¹²⁹ In the 2010 Census, “juvenile facilities” and “correctional facilities” were reported separately.

To study these important concepts the Census Bureau distributes the American Community Survey every year to a sample of the population and quantifies the results as one-, three- and five-year averages. The one-year sample only includes responses from the year the survey was implemented, while the five-year sample includes responses over a five-year period. Since the five-year estimates include more responses, the estimates can be tabulated down to the Census tract level, and considered more robust than the one or three year sample estimates.

Table II.15.4, below, shows data on household type by tenure in the 2012 5-year ACS data. Household type is broken down by family households and non-family households. In 2012, there were an estimated 7,690 family households, of which 6,452 housed married couple families and 1,238 housed “other families.” “Other family” is defined as either a male householder with no wife present, of whom there were 267 families, or a female householder with no husband present, of which there were 971 families. There were also an estimated 4,266 “non-family households,” which refers to households of unrelated people or one person living alone. When compared to the state, the percentage of family households in Park County was 64.3 percent, which compared to the statewide rate of 65.9 percent. Of the family households in Park County, 83.9 percent were married households, which compared to 80.5 percent in the State of Wyoming.

The age of a structure influences its value. As shown in Table II.15.16, at right, structures built in 1939 or earlier had a median value of $180,400, while structures built between 1950 and 1959 had a median value of $160,500 and those built between 1990 to 1999 had a median value of $257,300. The newest structures tended to have the highest values and those built between 2000 and 2009 and from 2010 or later had median values of $307,500 and $139,500, respectively. The total average median value in Park County was $206,000, which compared to $184,400 in the State of Wyoming.

Economics

The HUD estimated MFI for Park County was $63,500 in 2014. This compares to Wyoming’s MFI of $71,400. Diagram II.15.1, below, illustrates the estimated MFI for 2000 through 2014.

Labor force and employment statistics were derived from Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) data. Park County’s labor force, defined as the number of persons working or actively seeking work, decreased by 366 persons, from 15,700 in 2012 to 15,334 in 2013. Employment decreased by 245 persons; unemployment decreased by 121 persons; and the unemployment rate, the number of unemployed persons as a percentage of the labor force, decreased from 5.8 percent in 2012 to 5.1 in 2013, as shown below in Diagram II.15.2.

The BLS, in conjunction with the State Employment Security Agencies (SESAs), produces the Quarterly Census of Employment and Wages (QCEW), which reports monthly data on employment and quarterly data on wages and number of business establishments. QCEW employment data represent the number of workers who worked during or received pay for the pay period. Members of the armed forces, the self-employed, proprietors, domestic workers, and unpaid family workers are not included in QCEW estimates. As shown in Table II.15.20, below, annual total monthly employment decreased by 1.93 percent between 2012 and 2013, from a total of 13,981 to 13,711 workers.

The Bureau of Economic Analysis (BEA) measures employment, defined as the total number of full- and part-time jobs by place of work. In 2012, the most recent year for which data are available, Park County recorded 20,971 jobs. Total real personal income, comprising all wage and salary earnings, proprietorship income, dividends, interest, rents, and transfer payments, adjusted for place of residence, was $1,425,437, and real per capita income was $49,664 in 2012. Average earnings per job in the county was $40,308 in 2012. These data are presented in full in Volume II. Technical Appendix.

Housing

According to the Wyoming Cost of Living Index, average apartment rent in Park County increased from $529 in fourth quarter 2012 to $550 in fourth quarter 2013, or by 4.0 percent. Over the same period, rents for detached single-family homes increased by 4.9 percent, mobile homes on a lot increased by 5.5 percent and 1.3 percent for mobile home lots.

Park County rental prices experienced average annualized increases of 2.3 percent for apartments, 2.7 percent for houses, 3.2 percent for mobile homes plus a lot, and 2.0 percent for mobile home lots since fourth quarter 1986 to fourth quarter 2013. These figures compare to state average annualized increases in rental prices of 3.2 percent for apartments, 3.8 percent for houses, 3.5 percent for mobile homes plus a lot, and 3.0 percent for mobile home lots over the same period. Table II.15.23, at right, presents the Park County data for each rental type.

The Census Bureau reports building permit authorizations and “per unit” valuation of building permits by county annually. Single-family construction usually represents most residential development in the county. Single-family building permit authorizations in Park County decreased from 104 authorized units in 2012 to 98 in 2013. Total residential authorizations decreased from 124 units in 2011 to 124 in 2012.

The real value of single-family building permits increased from $203,455 in 2012 to $229,180 in 2013. The value over the past decade, in real 2013 dollars, fluctuated from a high of $229,180 in 2013 to a low of $171,579 in 2004. These figures compare to the state average high of $289,650 in 2013 and low of $187,810 in 2003. Additional details are given in Table II.15.24, on the following page.

The Wyoming Rental Vacancy Survey (RVS) has been completed biannually since 2000, with the most recent survey conducted in June 2014.¹³⁰ During June 2014, a total of 106 surveys were completed by property managers in Park County. Of the 1,533 rental units surveyed, 56 were vacant, indicating a vacancy rate of 3.65 percent, as shown in Table II.15.26, below. This rate compares to a 3.57 percent vacancy rate one year ago and a statewide December 2013 vacancy rate of 5.57 percent.

Diagram II.15.3, below, shows the historical vacancy rate for Park County and Wyoming. As can be seen, the vacancy rate in Park County was similar to the statewide vacancy rate until late 2008, when it dropped below the statewide rate, and declined further in June 2014.

Diagram II.15.4, below, shows the average rent of single-family and apartment units in Park County. In the first half of 2014, average rents for single-family units increased to $817 and average rents for apartments increased to $695.

Table II.15.27, below shows the amount of total and vacant units by unit type, with their associated vacancy rates. At the time of the survey, there were an estimated 269 single family units in Park County, with 11 of them available. This translates into a vacancy rate of 4.1 percent in Park County, which compares to a single family vacancy rate of 4.0 percent for the State of Wyoming. There were 496 apartment units reported in the survey, with 11 of them available, which resulted in a vacancy rate of 2.2 percent. This compares to a statewide vacancy rate of 3.0 percent for apartment units across the state.

Average market-rate rents by unit type are shown in Table II.15.29, on the following page. Not all respondents were able to disclose the rental amounts for their units, so there may be some statistical aberrations in the computed rental rates, but generally those units with more bedrooms had higher rents. Single family units also normally command higher rents than apartment units.

Table, II.15.39, on the following page, shows the most common answers from the 2014 fiscal year Housing Needs Assessment (HNA) Survey. This survey focused on new Wyoming residents and was conducted over the phone using a sample from data provided by the WYDOT. Park County had a total of 93 respondents, with an average persons per household of 2.4 people. Of new residents to Park County, 56.5 percent were married and the most common age group arriving in the state was 25 to 34 years old. Most new residents moved for reasons other than those given in the survey.

The HNA survey, also asked residents about their current residence. New residents most commonly reported living in a single family home, with 51.6 percent of respondents renting their residence. The average mortgage payment in Park County was $764 and the average rent was $714. When asked if they were satisfied with their current housing, 81.7 percent said they were satisfied with thier current housing.

For residents who are unsatisfied with their current housing, 46.7 percent were unsatisfied because of some other reason not listed in the survey. When asked what type of unit they were seeking, the most common response, 100.0 percent, indicated they were seeking a single family home. When asked if they preferred to own or rent, 88.9 percent wanted to buy and 11.1 wanted to rent their next residence. Most residents wishing to buy a house anticipated spending $300,000 to $349,999 dollars if they were buying an existing unit, and Less than $50,000 dollars if anticipated building a new unit. Of those respondents who wished to rent, the most common response, 100.0 percent of respondents, anticipated spending $501 to $600 dollars. Additional survey data are presented in Volume II Technical Appendix¹³¹.

Housing Problems

While the ACS data do not report significant details regarding the physical condition of housing units, some information can be derived from data relating to overcrowding, incomplete plumbing or kitchen facilities, and cost burdens.

¹³¹ Percentages presented here may vary slightly from those in the technical appendix. This is because the percentages here are calculated with the missing responses excluded, where the percentages calculated in the technical appendix include all responses, even if they are missing.

Overcrowding is defined as having from 1.1 to 1.5 people per room per residence, with severe overcrowding defined as having more than 1.5 people per room. According to 2012 5-year ACS data, 221 or 1.8 percent of households in Park County were overcrowded and another 0 or 0.0 percent of units were severely overcrowded, as shown in Table II.15.40, below. This housing problem was far more prevalent in renter households as compared to owner households.

Incomplete plumbing and kitchen facilities are another indicator of potential housing problems. According to the Census Bureau, a housing unit is classified as lacking complete plumbing facilities when any of the following are not present: piped hot and cold water, a flush toilet, and a bathtub or shower. Likewise, a unit is categorized as deficient when any of the following are missing from the kitchen: a sink with piped hot and cold water, a range or cook top and oven, and a refrigerator.

At the time of the 2012 5-year ACS, a total of 309 units or 2.3 percent of all housing units in Park County were lacking complete kitchen facilities. This compared to 2.9 percent of households statewide without complete kitchen facilities. These data are presented in Table II.15.41, at right.

Percent Lacking	2.3%	2.9%

At the time of the 2012 ACS, a total of 187 units or 1.4 percent of all housing units in Park County were lacking complete plumbing facilities. This compared to 2.3 percent of households lacking complete plumbing facilities in the State of Wyoming. These data are presented in Table II.15.42, below.

The third type of housing problem reported in the 2012 ACS data is cost burden. Cost burden is defined as gross housing costs that range from 30.0 to 50.0 percent of gross household income; severe cost burden is defined as gross housing costs that exceed 50.0 percent of gross household income. For homeowners, gross housing costs include property taxes, insurance, energy payments, water and sewer service, and refuse collection. If the homeowner has a mortgage, the determination also includes principal and interest payments on the mortgage loan. For renters, this figure represents monthly rent and selected electricity and natural gas energy charges.

In Park County, 15.5 percent of households had a cost burden and 10.2 percent of households had a severe cost burden, which compared to 14.4 percent with a cost burden and 9.9 percent with a severe cost burden in the State of Wyoming. Roughly 22.4 percent of homeowners with a mortgage in Park County experienced a cost burden and 16.0 percent experienced a severe cost burden, while 13.6 percent of renters had a cost burden and 8.1 percent had a severe cost burden, as seen in Table II.15.43, on the following page.
