At the time of the 2010 Census, there were 140 persons living in “group quarters.” This type of household is defined as places where individuals live or stay in a group living arrangement owned or managed by an organization that provides housing or services for residents, such as medical care. Group quarters also include places like college residence halls, military barracks, or correctional facilities. Between 2000 and 2010, the number of persons living in group quarters decreased by 29.3 percent, as shown in Table II.22.3, below.

In the 1980, 1990, and 2000 Decennial censuses, the Census Bureau released several tabulations in addition to the full SF1 100 percent count data including the one-in-six SF3 sample. These additional samples, such as the SF3, asked supplementary questions regarding income and household attributes that were not asked in the 100 percent count. In the 2010 Decennial census, the Census Bureau did not collect additional sample data, such as the SF3, and thus many important housing and income concepts are not available in the 2010 Census.

To study these important concepts the Census Bureau distributes the American Community Survey every year to a sample of the population and quantifies the results as one-, three- and five-year averages. The one-year sample only includes responses from the year the survey was implemented, while the five-year sample includes responses over a five-year period. Since the five-year estimates include more responses, the estimates can be tabulated down to the Census tract level, and considered more robust than the one or three year sample estimates.

Table II.22.4, below, shows data on household type by tenure in the 2012 5-year ACS data. Household type is broken down by family households and non-family households. In 2012, there were an estimated 2,192 family households, of which 1,842 housed married couple families and 350 housed "other families." "Other family" is defined as either a male householder with no wife present, of whom there were 138 families, or a female householder with no husband present, of which there were 212 families. There were also an estimated 1,247 "non-family households," which refers to households of unrelated people or one person living alone. When compared to the state, the percentage of family households in Washakie County was 63.7 percent, which compared to the statewide rate of 65.9 percent. Of the family households in Washakie County, 84.0 percent were married households, which compared to 80.5 percent in the State of Wyoming.

Economics

The HUD estimated MFI for Washakie County was $67,700 in 2014.¹⁶³ This compares to Wyoming’s MFI of $71,400. Diagram II.22.1, below, illustrates the estimated MFI for 2000 through 2014.

Labor force and employment statistics were derived from Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) data. Washakie County’s labor force, defined as the number of persons working or actively seeking work, decreased by 78 persons, from 4,383 in 2012 to 4,305 in 2013. Employment decreased by 56 persons; unemployment decreased by 22 persons; and the unemployment rate, or the number of unemployed persons as a percentage of the labor force, decreased from 5.4 percent in 2012 to 5.0 percent in 2013, as shown below in Diagram II.22.2.

The BLS, in conjunction with the State Employment Security Agencies (SESAs), produces the Quarterly Census of Employment and Wages (QCEW), which reports monthly data on employment and quarterly data on wages and number of business establishments. QCEW employment data represent the number of workers who worked during or received pay for the pay period. Members of the armed forces, the self-employed, proprietors, domestic workers, and unpaid family workers are not included in QCEW estimates. As shown in Table II.22.20, below, annual total monthly employment decreased by 2.43 percent between 2012 and 2013, from a total of 3,904 to 3,809 workers.

The Bureau of Economic Analysis (BEA) measures employment, defined as the total number of full- and part-time jobs by place of work. In 2012, the most recent year for which data are available, Washakie County recorded 5,665 jobs. Total real personal income, comprising all wage and salary earnings, proprietorship income, dividends, interest, rents, and transfer payments, adjusted for place of residence, was $363,257,000 and real per capita income was $42,917 in 2012. Average earnings per job in the county was $42,614 in 2012. These data are presented in full in Volume II. Technical Appendix.

Housing

According to the Wyoming cost of living index, average apartment rent in Washakie County increased from $445 in second quarter 2012 to $473 in fourth quarter 2013, or by 6.3 percent. Over the same period detached single-family home rents increased by 0.8 percent.

Washakie County rental prices experienced average annualized increases of 2.1 percent for apartments and 2.8 percent for houses since fourth quarter 1986 through fourth quarter 2013. These figures compare to state average annualized increases in rental prices of 3.2 percent for apartments, 3.8 percent for houses, 3.5 percent for mobile homes plus a lot, and 3.0 percent for mobile home lots over the same period. Table II.22.23, at right, presents the Washakie County data for each rental type.¹⁶⁴

The Census Bureau reports building permit authorizations and “per unit” valuation of building permits by county annually. Single-family construction usually represents most residential development in the county. Single-family building permit authorizations in Washakie County increased from one authorized unit in 2012 to four in 2013.

The real value of single-family building permits increased from $40,597 in 2012 to $161,000 in 2013. The value over the past decade, in real 2013 dollars, fluctuated from a high of $238,029 in 2012 to a low of $40,597 in 2012. These figures compare to the state average high of $289,650 in 2013 and a low of $187,810 in 2003. Additional details of permit activity and per unit valuations are given in Table II.22.24, on the following page.

¹⁶⁵Those signified as a in the “year” column of Table II.22.10 are conducted in June/July of each year. Those signified as b are conducted each November/December. Conducting the surveys in June and December of each year allows one to view the prospective seasonality of vacancy rates as well as year-to-year changes.

Diagram II.22.3, below, shows the historical vacancy rate for Washakie County and Wyoming. As can be seen, the vacancy rate in Washakie County was above the statewide rate early in the decade, but except for a single spike in 2012, has remained below the statewide rate since 2007. In 2014, the vacancy rate rose to just above the Statewide rate and remained above it the most recent survey.

Diagram II.22.4, below, shows the average rent of single-family and apartment units in Washakie County. In the first half of 2014, average rents for single-family units increased to $670, and average rents for apartments increased to $525.

Table II.22.27, below shows the amount of total and vacant units by unit type, with their associated vacancy rates. At the time of the survey, there were an estimated 73 single family units in Washakie County, with 4 of them available. This translates into a vacancy rate of 5.5 percent in Washakie County, which compares to a single family vacancy rate of 4.0 percent for the State of Wyoming. There were 285 apartment units reported in the survey, with 7 of them available, which resulted in a vacancy rate of 2.5 percent. This compares to a statewide vacancy rate of 3.0 percent for apartment units across the state.

Average market-rate rents by unit type are shown in Table II.22.29, on the following page. Not all respondents were able to disclose the rental amounts for their units, so there may be some statistical aberrations in the computed rental rates, but generally those units with more bedrooms had higher rents. Single family units also normally command higher rents than apartment units.

Table, II.22.38, below shows the most common answers from the 2014 fiscal year Housing Needs Assessment (HNA) Survey. This survey focused on new Wyoming residents and was conducted over the phone using a sample from data provided by the WYDOT. Washakie County had a total of 16 respondents, with an average persons per household of 2.6 people. Of new residents to Washakie County, 56.3 percent were married and the most common age group arriving in the state was 25 to 34 years old. Most new residents moved for a new job.

The HNA survey, also asked residents about their current residence. New residents most commonly reported living in a single family home, with 50.0 percent of respondents renting their residence. The average mortgage payment in Washakie County was $812 and the average rent was $492. When asked if they were satisfied with their current housing, 81.3 percent said they were satisfied with thier current housing.

Housing Problems

While the ACS data do not report significant details regarding the physical condition of housing units, some information can be derived from data relating to overcrowding, incomplete plumbing or kitchen facilities, and cost burdens.

Overcrowding is defined as having from 1.1 to 1.5 people per room per residence, with severe overcrowding defined as having more than 1.5 people per room. According to 2012 5-year ACS data, 53 or 1.5 percent of households in Washakie County were overcrowded and another 19 or 0.6 percent of units were severely overcrowded, as shown in Table II.22.39, below. This housing problem was far more prevalent in renter households as compared to owner households.

Incomplete plumbing and kitchen facilities are another indicator of potential housing problems. According to the Census Bureau, a housing unit is classified as lacking complete plumbing facilities when any of the following are not present: piped hot and cold water, a flush toilet, and a bathtub or shower. Likewise, a unit is categorized as deficient when any of the following are missing from the kitchen: a sink with piped hot and cold water, a range or cook top and oven, and a refrigerator.

At the time of the 2012 5-year ACS, a total of 61 units or 1.6 percent of all housing units in Washakie County were lacking complete kitchen facilities. This compared to 2.9 percent of households statewide without complete kitchen facilities. These data are presented in Table II.22.40, at right.

Table II.22.40 Housing Units with Incomplete Kitchen Facilities Washakie County 2008-2012 5-Year ACS Data

Lacking Complete Kitchen Facilities	61	7,488
Total Housing Units	3,821	261,430
Percent Lacking	1.6%	2.9%

At the time of the 2012 ACS, a total of 11 units or 0.3 percent of all housing units in Washakie County were lacking complete plumbing facilities. This compared to 2.3 percent of households lacking complete plumbing facilities in the State of Wyoming. These data are presented in Table II.22.41, below.

The third type of housing problem reported in the 2012 ACS data is cost burden. Cost burden is defined as gross housing costs that range from 30.0 to 50.0 percent of gross household income; severe cost burden is defined as gross housing costs that exceed 50.0 percent of gross household income. For homeowners, gross housing costs include property taxes, insurance, energy payments, water and sewer service, and refuse collection. If the homeowner has a mortgage, the determination also includes principal and interest payments on the mortgage loan. For renters, this figure represents monthly rent and selected electricity and natural gas energy charges.

In Washakie County, 16.8 percent of households had a cost burden and 7.6 percent of households had a severe cost burden, which compared to 14.4 percent with a cost burden and 9.9 percent with a severe cost burden in the State of Wyoming. Roughly 23.3 percent of homeowners with a mortgage in Washakie County experienced a cost burden and 8.5 percent experienced a severe cost burden, while 16.2 percent of renters had a cost burden and 10.1 percent had a severe cost burden, as seen in Table II.22.42, on the following page.
